BUDGETING

Creating a budget for individuals' available funds is a key part of the money management process. All people served are actively involved in establishing their budgets. Individual budgets are developed around the consumer's needs in the following order:

- Housing, Food, Utilities

- Personal spending, recreation/hobbies, or Transportation

Funds are distributed based upon the budget and the schedule agreed upon by all parties. A copy of completed budgets and regular financial account reports are available, upon request.
